Health Research

Have you had experience of Cardiovascular Disease and have a passion for children's health?

Do you want to help others and influence the development of exciting research at Guy's and St Thomas'?

The NIHR Cardiovascular MedTech Co-operative are working with ECHO (Evelina Children's Heart Organisation) inviting patients and carers to form a Patient Public Involvement group with a special interest in children's heart disease.

What do you need to do?

- Attend 3-4 meetings per year at the ECHO office or St Thomas' Hospital
- Provide your comments and feedback based on your experience as a patient/carer and a member of the heart community
- Attend our training provided through Biomedical Research Centre: a buddy-scheme is on offer to support you
- Be contactable by email between meetings

The first meeting will be on December 11th of 2018, 5-7pm at ECHO, 1 Royal Street, London, SE1 7LL just opposite St Thomas' Hospital. All Travel Expenses will be reimbursed and light refreshments will be provided for the PPI group and your training.

Get in touch: If you are interested in finding out more please contact Jiafeng Feng on 0207 848 9517 or via email jiafeng.feng@kcl.ac.uk.
