

Clothing recommendations for young children in hospital

Babies and young children who are receiving care at the hospital or have undergone surgery often need special apparel that can accommodate medical equipment. The information below is a useful starting point if you're looking for pyjamas, surgical gowns, vests, sleep suits or rompers which suit the needs of your child and look bright and beautiful as well.

Pop N Grow is a charity that distributes clothes specifically made for hospital use, free of charge..

H & M sell a selection of wrapover body suits and tops/trousers in a variety of sizes.

EmJoyShop sells wrap-around bodysuits in assorted colours on eBay.

Asda and Next also sell small baby clothes that button down the side - and have been recommended by ECHO parents.